

Tombs and monuments survey

6.6.1 Plan showing tomb zones

ST. MARY'S HORNSEY
CHURCHYARD TOMB ZONES

6.6.2 Introduction

The aim of the tomb and monument survey is to:

- 1) Pass on to the future generations the visual variety, amenity and historical interest of the churchyard.
- 2) Provide a report providing advice and recommendations for future conservation work, for incorporation into a conservation management plan for the churchyard.
- 3) Provide an educational resource, relevant for cultural history, local demography, family history, design, ecology and conservation.
- 4) Provide a report which can act as a pilot study for English Heritage's assessment of conditions of tombs and monuments elsewhere.

The report 2) is achieved by recording on a form the nature, material, date, size, structural condition and types of deterioration provided by each monument.

6.6.3 Tomb and monument identification

This list of tombs and monuments is divided into two categories as follows:

- 1) The list of tombs is arranged under the six zones (A-F) defined in the North Middlesex Family History Society (NMFHS) survey of 1987, using the numbering in this survey. These zones are shown on the accompanying plan of the churchyard. The location of the numbered tombs can be found on the NMFHS 1987 survey plan, details of which are noted in Appendix 6.4. The records deposited with the Hornsey Historical Society should have a correlation of all the tomb numbers. A number of tombs recorded in 1987 are now not visible but are still included. These are identified 'nv'.
- 2) Tombs and monuments formerly in the church or churchyard now located elsewhere are arranged under the place in which they are to be found.

For an index by name, the NMFHS survey should be referred to. This survey can be viewed on the FoHCT website <https://hornseychurchtower.com/tomb-survey/>. The information listed here is summary but the original survey forms will be housed with the Hornsey Historical Society.

For management purposes, checking is by area (A - F) with the following information:

- tomb number within area
- name of person or family commemorated
- conservation priority with the following condition categories
 - 1 = very poor
 - 2 = poor
 - 3 = fair
 - 4 = good

It is tombs in very poor condition (category 1) that require particular attention.
